ROD and GUN CLUB

Weather permitting, deep sea spot continued to keep eager anglers happy with takes of yellowtail, bonita, and barracuda, plus a sudden run of lunker white sea bass at Paradise Cove that went just as fast as they came. Break in the weather hopes to find fishing on the briney deep pretty much as before the storm.

The main interest is along the surf as hundreds and hundreds of surf enthusiasts from Rod and Gun clubs from all over Southern California seek out "hot spots" for the annual Redondo Rod and Gun Perch Derby, slated for Feb. 16. Our own local club is sending its top surf anglers on teams of five in the junior division, women's division, and, of course, five men teams, intent on copping the over-all winners trophy for the second year in a row. Torrance's younger anglers took first place among the juniors in last year's competition as well. So naturally our local mob of "hot-shots" are tabbed as the ones to beat, by me anyway!

The Rafu Angling Club's annual three man team barred perch derby has, in the past, drawn a good number of Torrance representatives. Last year's competition saw local surf enthusiasts taking the third spot, the year before, the over-all trophy for the largest perch taken during the derby. Can be sure, come March 16, the date picked for this year's derby, Torrance anglers will be out to be among the winners.

First part of the year brings award and installation time to rod and gun members. Saturday night at the Palms, Joe Fanning will take the helm for the Torrance Rod and Gun, relieving Paul Smith of presidential duties. Also to be sworn into office is Al St. Onge, vice president; Harry Seeman, treasurer; Clyde Bottrell, executive secretary; and Loyce Lyle, recording secretary. Trophy time too, as members with outstanding fetes in hunting and fishing will be acknowledged. On the lighter side, members known for having pulled a "boo boo" of one kind or another are sure to be reminded. Seriously though, five Torrance members who will receive trophies from the club can be doubly proud of their skill as they will go to the Button Award Assn. banquet this month, which means that their achievements topple all other members of Southern California Rod and Gun Clubs. Five out of one club, well, just shows where all the talent is.

Class Slated In American Literature

A course in American Literature is being offered to adults at Torrance Evening High School beginning Tuesday, Feb. 4. The class, which will meet on Tuesday evening from 7 to 9:30 p.m., Room 101, Torrance High School, 2200 W. Carson St., will be conducted by Garth H. Belknap.

B-I-E DAY PLANNERS WILL MEET

A planning session for Torrance's Business-Industry-Education Day will be held today at 3:45 p.m. in the City Council Chambers.

Education Chairman Fred Brunner of the sponsoring Torrance Chamber of Commerce, said that an attendance check indicates interest is running high among community leaders.

Over 900 teachers will spend the day as guests of the city's businesses and industries on B-I-E Day scheduled March 17. Plans call for tours and a series of conferences concerning company programs of occupational adjustment, employee relations, public relations, production or merchandising, distribution or sales management, community cooperation and financial and profits.

The teachers will be guests at a series of luncheons.

Primary interest will be on the growth and development of the American novel with emphasis on the novel since World War I. Particular attention will be given to such writers as Hemingway, Dos Passos, Wolfe, Steinbeck, Willa Cather, Ellen Glasgow and others.

Students may register in class at the first session attended. Further information may be had by calling the Adult Education Office, Torrance High School.

WOMEN JURORS

Michigan was the first state to permit women to serve on juries, the act passed in 1915. Maine and Utah legislatures followed shortly thereafter with similar enabling acts.
